Service of Worship

Twenty-first Sunday after Pentecost

October 21, 2012

Eleven o'clock in the morning

~ Keeping the heart of the University listening to the heart of God ~

"The Lord Answering Job out of a Whirlwind," by William Blake, 1823-26.

The scripture passages for this morning point to God's glory and power, but also reveal that God laid aside his power over the created world in order to share his life among creation. God answers Job out of the whirlwind to remind Job of the breadth of divine majesty and the wonder and mysteries that are beyond human knowledge. God seeks to offer some assurance that there is an order to creation and that he is not capricious, even if humans do not always understand his ways. In the gospel lesson from Mark, Jesus continues to turn upside down his disciples' expectations by saying, "Whoever wishes to be first among you must be slave of all."

The congregation is asked to remain silent during the prelude as a time of prayer and meditation.

OFFERTORY

Bless the Lord, O My Soul

René Clausen
(b. 1952)

Bless the Lord, O my soul! O Lord my God, how excellent is your greatness! You are clothed with majesty and splendor, you wrap yourself with light as with a cloak and spread out the heavens like a curtain. O Lord, how manifold are your works. In wisdom you have made them all, the earth is full of your creation, for you made them all. May the glory of the Lord endure forever, may the Lord rejoice in all God's works. I will sing to the Lord while I live; I will rejoice in the Lord our God forever. Alleluia. Amen.

—Psalms 104:1-2, 24, 31, 33

Praise God, all creatures here below; Alleluia, Alleluia!

Praise God above, ye heavenly host,

Praise Father, Son and Holy Ghost. Alleluia, Alleluia,

THANKSGIVING AND COMMUNION

This morning we give thanks to the Department of Mathematics, where students are challenged to use reason and imagination to understand the beauty and intricacies of abstract structure. Here they learn how to apply mathematics as an essential and integral tool of science and technology, in areas as diverse as cosmology, finance, medicine, and environmental studies. The ushers bring a polyhedron to the altar.

In Durham we remember those who have been scarred by unhealthy relationships. A representative brings forward a purple ribbon, symbolizing solidarity with victims and survivors of domestic abuse, and a blue ribbon, symbolizing solidarity with victims and survivors of child abuse.

*THE LORD'S PRAYER (number 895 in the hymnal, in unison)

SHARING OF THE BREAD AND WINE

All those who have become members of Christ's body through baptism and seek to be united with God and at peace with their neighbor are invited to receive communion. Wine is used for communion. If you would prefer to receive grape juice, it is available upon request at the communion station near the main entrance of the Chapel, on the pulpit side. If you have a gluten allergy, those serving communion nearest to the Memorial Chapel will be ready to serve you gluten-free wafers and wine on request. You may also come forward to receive a blessing, indicated by crossing your arms over your chest.

If you would like to receive individual anointing with oil and prayers for healing, ministers will be in the Memorial Chapel during communion.
