

DUKE
UNIVERSITY
CHAPEL

Service of Worship

Second Sunday after Epiphany
January 15, 2012
Eleven o'clock in the morning

~ Keeping the heart of the University listening to the heart of God ~

"Young Samuel Finds the High Priest Eli Asleep in the Temple," by Rembrandt, c. 1635.

Today we honor the witness of the Rev. Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr., recalling his conviction that "injustice anywhere is a threat to justice everywhere." Our service includes a litany in memory of those who lit the path of freedom. The Old Testament lesson from 1 Samuel informs its reader that "the word of the Lord was rare in those days"—the chosen people are living in a season of emptiness and corruption. In this sullied context, God calls the child, Samuel, who has a simple response, "Speak Lord, for your servant is listening." The words Samuel is called to share are words of harsh judgment. Yet he does not flinch from speaking this truth.

The congregation is asked to remain silent during the prelude as a time of prayer and meditation.

A LITANY FOR MARTIN LUTHER KING SUNDAY

(The congregation responds with the text in bold.)

God of justice and mercy, you have given us a great cloud of witnesses, who made the long walk to freedom, and are still a pillar of cloud marking the path today,

For Sojourner Truth, Frederick Douglass, Nat Turner, Richard Allen, and all who lived and persevered through times when hope was dim,
We give you thanks and praise.

For Harriet Tubman, Ida Wells-Barnett, Paul Laurence Dunbar, Marcus Garvey, James Weldon Johnson, Paul Rosamund Johnson, and all who dreamed the dream and gave it song,

We give you thanks and praise.

For W.E.B. du Bois, Booker T. Washington, Mary Church Terrell, Septima Clark, and all who upheld the dream through times of doubt and sorrow,

We give you thanks and praise.

For James Baldwin, Howard Thurman, Langston Hughes, Mary McLeod Bethune, and all who sustained the dream and gave it voice,
We give you thanks and praise.

For Rosa Parks, Martin Luther King, Jr., Ella Baker, and all who lived the dream,

We give you thanks and praise.

For Paul Robeson, Fannie Lou Hamer, A. Philip Randolph, Adam Clayton Powell, Pauli Murray, and all who have carried the dream forward through times of tragedy and joy.

We give you thanks and praise.

Make us, Lord, a people who cherish the memory of the examples you lay before us; honor the struggle of those who continue to give their lives to make your dream come true; and seek through your Son to make that dream our dream, so that we too may enter the richness of your glory.

Amen.

OFFERTORY ANTHEM

He Never Failed Me Yet

Robert Ray
(b. 1946)

I will sing of God's mercy, every day, every hour, he gives me power. I will sing and give thanks to thee for all the dangers, toils, and snares that he has brought me out. He is my God and I'll serve him, no matter what the test. Trust and never doubt, Jesus will surely bring you out, he never failed me yet. I know God is able to deliver in time of storm. I know that he'll keep you safe from all earthly harm. One day when my weary soul is at rest, I'm going home to be forever blessed. Didn't my God deliver Moses from King Pharaoh? And didn't he cool the fiery furnace for Shadrach, Meshach, and Abednego? When I think of what my God can do, he delivered Daniel, I know he will deliver you.

Praise Father, Son, and Holy Ghost. Alleluia, Alleluia,

THANKSGIVING

This morning we give thanks for the Department of Athletics. We celebrate the ways its students strive for excellence both academically and athletically, as well as the sportsmanship that brings a spirit of competition and play to the Duke campus. A representative brings a baseball to the altar.

In Durham, we celebrate all those people who seek to build friendships across socioeconomic and racial lines. A representative brings forward a copy of The Best of Enemies, an account of how two people from very different backgrounds in Durham came to be friends.

ABOUT TODAY'S GUEST PREACHER

We are pleased to welcome Dr. J. Kameron Carter as the Joseph H. Jackson Guest Preacher. Professor Carter teaches courses in both theology and black church studies. Working as a theologian, he addresses the basic areas of Christian thought, especially attending to Christology and theological anthropology. But in engaging such matters, he does so with a view not just to the church or to Christian believers but with a view to the broader humanities, particularly with an eye toward such fields as cultural studies, gender studies, and philosophy and literature. He is the author of the book Race: A Theological Account (New York: Oxford University Press, 2008).

QUESTIONS PEOPLE OFTEN ASK - WHY DO WE CONFESS OUR SINS?

Sin is not simply something that makes people unhappy or causes pain—it is life based on a false story, one that leads to worshiping something other than the God of Jesus Christ. However, the Christian story does not begin with sin but with God's decision to be in relationship with humanity and all creation. Thus when there is a breakdown of that relationship, by what has been done, or what has been left undone, it is a tragedy in which the congregation has participated. Repentance means naming and stripping away the things that distance the disciple from the gospel. From personal repentance the congregation moves into corporate confession. It is not just their own sin that is separating them from God—sin infects the people of God as a whole. In confessing sin, we recognize that this congregation has joined, even within the last week, in the catastrophe of discarding God's everlasting invitation to worship and friendship.
