Service of Worship

Third Sunday after Epiphany
January 24, 2016, Page Auditorium
Eleven o'clock in the morning

~ Bridging Faith and Learning ~

“The Great Isaiah Scroll,” via Creative Commons, ca. 200 B.C.

In this morning’s Scripture passage from Nehemiah, Ezra leads the restored Israelite people in a reading of the Law, and a recommitting to the Lord’s faithful covenant. In Luke’s Gospel, we see Jesus make an astonishing declaration as he similarly reads the Scriptures before the people. Jesus reveals that he is the living fulfilment of Isaiah’s prophecy that God would establish a Kingdom of justice and righteousness. The Holy Spirit rests upon Jesus, and in Paul’s letter to the Corinthians, we see the promise of the Spirit shared with all believers. Each member of the Church will be equipped with the gifts necessary to unite the living body of Christ and usher in the coming Kingdom of God.

At the close of today's service, the Lord's Supper will be celebrated in Page Auditorium by the seats at the front left of the stage, in front of the organ. Immediately following Communion, a service of prayer for healing will be held in the same location. The service consists of prayers for healing and wholeness with anointing and laying on of hands. All are invited.

During the prelude the congregation is asked to remain prayerfully or meditatively silent. The Chapel welcomes families with children; if at any time during the service your child needs a place for active play, please utilize the nursery in the Box Office on the second floor of Page.

DUKE UNIVERSITY CHAPEL

Duke Chapel is a Christian church of an unusually interdenominational character, with a tradition of stirring music, preaching, and liturgy. It is also a grand building, suitable for hosting major events in the life of the University and its members; it further acts as a moderator for the diversity of religious identity and expression on campus. We welcome you to our life of worship, learning, dialogue, and service, especially during this year of the Chapel's restoration during which we will gather to worship God in different places across Duke's campuses.
