First Sunday in Lent

February 17, 2013

Eleven o'clock in the morning

∞ Keeping the heart of the University listening to the heart of God ∞

“Christ in the Wilderness” by Ivan Nicolaevich Kramskoy, 1873.

Today is the first Sunday in the season of Lent, when we are invited to examine the roots of our Christian discipleship and identify with Jesus’ journey to the cross. The early Sundays are a wilderness time—an opportunity to go deep into our hearts and the souls of our communities, to recognize the horror and depth of our estrangement from God, and to begin systematically to put things right. This morning we recite the Great Litany, which is a ritual of confession and petition to God. The practice of singing responsive prayers in the form of a processional liturgy goes back to the fourth century and is particularly associated with the liturgy of the Eastern Orthodox churches. Chanting the Great Litany during Lent has been a tradition at Duke Chapel for more than 25 years. The Chapel observes the tradition of eliminating alleluias or flowers in the sanctuary during Lent: these will return with the burst of joy on Easter Day.

At the close of today's service, the Lord's Supper will be celebrated in the Memorial Chapel located to the left of the chancel. Immediately following the Lord's Supper, a service of prayer for healing will be held. The service consists of prayers for healing and wholeness, with anointing and laying on of hands. All are invited.

The congregation is asked to remain silent during the prelude as a time of prayer and meditation.

CHAPEL ANNOUNCEMENTS

TODAY'S OFFERING—All of today's cash offerings and undesignated checks will be used to support the Chapel's PathWays program, which offers students opportunities to discern God's call for their lives through study, counsel, service, and community.

LENTEN REFLECTIONS—The Chapel has produced a booklet of Lenten reflections in conjunction with the University's celebration of 50 years of black students at Duke. Contributions were sought from many people in the University's life, past and present, including administrators, students, Chapel and University staff. The booklet is available on the Chapel's homepage at www.chapel.duke.edu and paper copies are available at the main desk at the Chapel entryway.

STATIONS OF THE CROSS—The stations of the cross hanging in Duke Chapel this Lenten season were created by Haitian artist John Silvestri using recycled materials. Silvestri made the pieces from discarded steel oil drums by scrubbing off the paint, slitting them down the side, and hammering them flat. He uses a chisel and wooden mallet to cut out the design templates, and finally textures them with an ice pick or awl. These works of art allow us to see the suffering of our Lord through the lenses of our Haitian sisters and brothers.

LABYRINTH—On Tuesday, March 5, visitors are invited to walk the Labyrinth in Duke Chapel, from 8:00 a.m. to 6:00 p.m. The Labyrinth, a forty-foot circle containing a winding path, is an ancient spiritual tradition in many faiths. The Labyrinth is self-guided, and takes 30 minutes to an hour to complete. The Chapel is co-sponsoring this event with the Congregation at Duke Chapel.
