Transfiguration Sunday

March 2, 2014

Eleven o'clock in the morning

✻ Keeping the heart of the University listening to the heart of God ✻

Today is Transfiguration Sunday, which marks the last Sunday before the season of Lent. The gospel lesson provides a vivid description of a mountaintop transformation where Jesus' face and garments become dazzling white in the presence of disciples Peter, James, and John. The Transfiguration also recalls Moses' encounter with God on Mt. Sinai. The appearance of both Moses and Elijah at the Transfiguration symbolizes Jesus' fulfillment of the Law and the Prophets through his life, death, and resurrection.

At the close of today's service, the Lord's Supper will be celebrated in the Memorial Chapel located to the left of the chancel. Immediately following the Lord's Supper, a service of prayer for healing will be held. The service consists of prayers for healing and wholeness, with anointing and laying on of hands. All are invited.

The congregation is asked to remain silent during the prelude as a time of prayer and meditation.

I believe in God the Father Almighty, maker of heaven and earth;

And in Jesus Christ his only Son our Lord; who was conceived by the Holy Spirit, born of the Virgin Mary, suffered under Pontius Pilate, was crucified, dead, and buried; he descended into hell; the third day he rose from the dead; he ascended into heaven, and sitteth at the right hand of God the Father Almighty; from thence he shall come to judge the living and the dead.

THANKSGIVING

This morning we give thanks for the Duke University Health System and its dedication to offering care and hospitality to patients and their families in times of illness and grief. A representative brings a blood pressure cuff to the altar.

In Durham, we remember with gratitude all those who work with adult education and literacy programs and in so doing offer hope and continued learning to those seeking new opportunities. Ushers bring forward a dictionary.

A child and youth member of the Congregation at Duke University Chapel bring forward offerings collected in the children and youth Sunday School classes.

The 5:15 p.m. service will include the Duke Vespers Ensemble. Ash Wednesday marks the first day of the season of Lent, which encompasses the 40 days prior to Easter Sunday. It is traditionally a season of repentance and fasting. The six Sundays in Lent are considered feast days and not counted as days of penance.

CHAPEL JOB OPENING

The Chapel is accepting applications for a new full-time staff position. The C. Eric Lincoln Minister for Student Engagement will capitalize on the opportunities for ministry, discovery and witness in the interface between Duke Chapel and students who have been historically underrepresented in the Chapel's ministries. This new position will integrate outreach to students with a greater emphasis on artistic expression, and will honor the life and work of C. Eric Lincoln, a man whose cross-cultural engagement, artistic expression and spiritual care are reflective of the broader outreach of Duke Chapel. For more information on this position, please contact Dr. Adam Hollowell, adam.hollowell@duke.edu.

TODAY'S FLOWERS—The flowers for the worship service today are given to the glory of God by contributors to the Gotham Fund in honor of Mary Duke Biddle Trent Semans' college classmates Ann Louise Reist Dunlap, Maxine Chambers Engert, Betty Pyle Baldwin, Caroline Breedlove Reid.

TODAY'S OFFERING—All of today's cash offerings and undesignated checks will be used to underwrite the costs for undergraduate students going on the Chapel's Spring Break mission trips. Duke Chapel PathWays provides mission trip opportunities for students who are interested in spending their Spring Break in service and reflection. This year the Chapel is sending teams to Costa Rica and South Carolina.

STETSON UNIVERSITY CHOIR TODAY—Duke Chapel will host a concert by the highly-acclaimed Stetson University Concert Choir, under the direction of Dr. Timothy Peter, today at 4:00 p.m. The concert is free and open to the public and one of several tour concerts leading up to a performance at Alice Tully Hall-Lincoln Center in New York City.

THE APOSTLES' CREED—Duke Chapel has made the decision to return to a traditional version of the Apostles' Creed, which includes the statement Jesus "descended into hell." This return is motivated out of the theological and pastoral conviction that this line of the creed forcefully reminds the Church that Christ's presence goes with us, even to the darkest and most tortured parts of our lives. Even hell is not beyond the bounds of Christ's presence, grace, and redemption. To quote the apostle Paul in Romans 8:38, "For I am convinced that neither death, nor life, nor angels, nor rulers, or things present, nor things to come, nor powers, nor height, nor depth, nor anything in all creation, will be able to separate us from the love of God in Christ Jesus our Lord."
