In 2 Samuel, King David’s son, Absalom, rebels against his father and is killed in battle. The victory of David’s army is overshadowed by his anguish over the loss of his beloved son. In the letter to the Ephesians, Paul seeks to equip Jesus’ disciples for a life that imitates the self-sacrificial love of Christ. Through the first of seven “I am” sayings in John’s Gospel, Jesus reveals himself to be the Bread of Life, and the only way to eternal life. In the breaking of Jesus’ body on the Cross, reflected in the breaking of Communion bread, we are invited to share in that life of self-sacrifice. It is in this place that enemies are reconciled, wounds are healed, and life in all its fullness is given to those who believe.
According to today’s service, the Lord’s Supper will be celebrated in Page Auditorium by the seats at the front right of the stage. Immediately following Communion, a service of prayer for healing will be held in the same location. The service consists of prayers for healing and wholeness with anointing and laying on of hands. All are invited.

During the prelude the congregation is asked to remain prayerfully or meditatively silent. The Chapel welcomes families with children; if at any time during the service your child needs a place for active play, please utilize the nursery in the Box Office on the second floor of Page.

Prayers for the Week

This morning we give thanks for the Duke Youth Academy for Christian Formation (DYA) for its work in guiding young people in the rituals and practices of Christian faith so that they may better understand how to live out their Christian commitments in the world.

In Durham we remember those seeking to live a new life after being released from prison, those working in the prison system, and the people who walk with returning citizens.

Duke Chapel is a Christian church of an unusually interdenominational character, with a tradition of stirring music, preaching, and liturgy. It is also a grand building, suitable for hosting major events in the life of the University and its members; it further acts as a moderator for the diversity of religious identity and expression on campus. We welcome you to our life of worship, learning, dialogue, and service, especially during this year of the Chapel’s restoration where we will gather to worship God in different places across Duke’s campuses.
