BRIDGING FAITH & LEARNING

SERVICE OF WORSHIP

Twelfth Sunday After Pentecost

Sunday, August 15, 2021, 11:00 a.m.

Angel with the Eternal Gospel
Manuscript illumination, c. 1255

In this week's lectionary lesson from 1 Kings, King Solomon, successor of David, prays for wisdom in a dream, and God grants his request. In the Old Testament, wisdom gives concrete and practical ways for people to live out deliberately their commitment to God. In the Christian tradition, wisdom is also often understood as representing the third person of the Trinity—the Holy Spirit who participated in creation and who still participates in the recreation and renewal of all who seek her. Today in the baptism of two children, we witness God's Spirit at work inviting new members into God's family. In the gospel lesson, Jesus speaks of his body being the living bread that came down from heaven. God's people are nourished for eternal life by Christ's body, and through his body Jesus gave himself for the life of the world.

Gradual Music

He That Is Down Need Fear No Fall

Ralph Vaughan Williams
(1872–1958)

He that is down need fear no fall,
He that is low, no pride;
He that is humble, ever shall
Have God to be his Guide.

I am content with what I have,
Little be it or much;
And, Lord, contentment still I crave,
Because Thou savest such.

Fullness to such a burden is,
That go on pilgrimage;
Here little, and hereafter bliss,
Is best from age to age.

MASKS REQUIRED INDOORS AT DUKE | Face masks are required inside all Duke-owned and leased buildings, including Duke Chapel. This requirement applies to all students, faculty, staff and visitors regardless of vaccination status. Because COVID vaccines are a matter of public health, we encourage all eligible people to receive one. Read more on the Duke Today website at today.duke.edu.

OPENING THIS WEEK | Effective Monday, August 16, the Chapel will be open to the public daily from 10:00 a.m. to 8:00 p.m. All are welcome in the sanctuary during these hours for personal reflection, prayer, or meditation, as well as to view the building's soaring Gothic architecture and vibrant stained-glass windows. Preregistration for services and visits will no longer be required. Anyone coming in-person to the Chapel is required to wear a face mask. Visit the Chapel website for a listing of services and other events: chapel.duke.edu/events.

A RETURN TO HYMNALS NEXT SUNDAY | Beginning next Sunday, August 22, we will return to using the hymnals in the pews for the majority of the hymns we sing in worship. A version of the United Methodist Hymnal can also be found online at hymnary.org/hymnal/UMH. Any songs not in the hymnal will be included in the worship guide.

CHORAL EVENSONG SERVICE IN MEMORY OF J. SAMUEL HAMMOND | The Chapel will hold a special Choral Evensong worship service on Sunday, August 22, at 4:00 p.m. in memory of the late J. Samuel Hammond, the university carillonneur emeritus. The service will include its customary Anglican liturgy and English choral music, which were beloved by Hammond. Additionally, the Chapel carillon will play before and after the service in honor of Hammond. For those attending the service in-person, face masks are required to be worn. For those who wish to view the service online, it will be livestreamed on the Chapel's website and YouTube channel; it will also be broadcast on channel 12 of the Duke Hospital system.

HELP RECOGNIZE A COMMUNITY LEADER | The Chapel is now accepting submissions for the 2021 Duke University Chapel Humanitarian Service Award, which recognizes a person who demonstrates a life of simplicity and service. The award is inspired by the lives of two Duke professors: Dr. George R. Parkerson, Jr. and the late Dr. C. Eric Lincoln. The recipient of the award is honored with a grant of up to $3,000 given to the nonprofit they designate. Learn more and nominate someone by September 3 on the Chapel website.

BRYAN CENTER GARAGE PARKING PASSES | Parking passes for Sunday mornings in the Bryan Center Parking Garage are now available. Please see an usher at the end of the service to receive a reusable pass. Parking in the Bryan Center Garage is also free until 2:30 p.m. on Sundays. When you leave, insert into the pay machine the ticket you received when you entered the garage. ADA parking is available at no charge in the Bryan Center Surface Lot, which is the lot between the garage and the Chapel.

STUDENTS INVITED TO WORSHIP, BELONG, AND SERVE | The Chapel offers undergraduate and graduate students many ways to connect their faiths and learning at Duke: belong to one of the campus Religious Life groups, become a Chapel Scholar, participate in worship services, enroll in Chapel-supported house courses, work a student job at the Chapel, and serve with community partners in Durham. ARTICLE HIGHLIGHTS CHAPEL CHARILLONNEURS | A new Working@Duke story features Chapel Carillonneur Joseph Fala explaining how he and the other Chapel carillonneurs continued to play the carillon during the pandemic. Ce'Ondra Ellison, T'21, graduated from Duke with majors in psychology and African and African American studies and a certificate in human rights. She was born and raised in Greensboro, North Carolina, but attended a magnet arts middle and high school in High Point, North Carolina, where she developed a love for performing, writing poetry, and advocating for social justice. While at Duke, Ce'Ondra performed with Nakisai African Dance Ensemble and United in Praise Gospel Choir and volunteered at the Community Empowerment Fund. Ce'Ondra was attracted to the Pathways Fellowship due to its focus on community and spiritual discernment. She came into the program with a love for the Durham community and hopes to foster a relationship with the West End community. She currently works at World Relief Durham in Immigration Legal Services and Refugee Resettlement. ## Boyoung Michelle Kim Boyoung Michelle Kim, T'21, graduated from Duke with a major in biology and minors in computer science and chemistry. Having moved around her entire life—most recently to Idaho—she is thankful for the opportunity to live in Durham for another year. As an undergraduate, she was involved with Asian InterVarsity Christian Fellowship, where she strengthened her conviction to translate faith into serving her community. Her desire to care for neglected voices, particularly those of older adults, was confirmed by serving at the nonprofit Adopt-A-Grandparent. As a Pathways Fellow, she hopes to learn about Durham's history and to engage with the city not as a college student but as a participating community member. Aspiring to ultimately become a physician, she is eager to learn about the complexities of healthcare access while reaching older residents as she works with Senior PharmAssist this year.

MEET THE PATHWAYS FELLOWS

Taylor Patton

Taylor Patton, T'21, graduated from Duke with a neuroscience major and minors in German and biology. She was born in Tulsa, Oklahoma, and raised in Greensboro, North Carolina, before her time as an undergraduate. Her commitment to community-building and volunteer work led her to be named a B.N. Duke Memorial Scholar, giving her the opportunity to work in communities across the Carolinas. As she prepares for a future career in social work and therapy, Taylor is looking forward to pursuing her passion for helping others through her work with Families Moving Forward and experiencing personal, professional, and spiritual growth during her time as a PathWays fellow.

Sarah Watkins

Born and raised in Winston-Salem, Sarah Watkins is a North Carolina woman through and through. At Duke, she studied as a B.N. Duke Scholar, double majoring in psychology and global health, with a particular interest in psychosocial and emotional wellbeing as it relates to identity, health-seeking behaviors, and health outcomes. Sarah spent her time as an undergraduate teaching an intergenerational ethics house course with “overgrads” and “undergrads” while working for Sustainable Duke, the Kenan Institute for Ethics, and the Penny Pilgram George Women’s Leadership Institute. She is grateful for the opportunity to live in an intentional community with her other fellows and the residents of the West-End community. Sarah hopes to explore her passion for sexual and LGBTQ+ health through her work with the Duke Division of Family Medicine and Community Health while expanding her spirituality through Duke Divinity School courses and fellowship with her peers and the Durham community.
