

Duke
UNIVERSITY
CHAPEL

Service of Worship

Twentieth Sunday after Pentecost
October 14, 2012
Eleven o'clock in the morning

∞ Keeping the heart of the University listening to the heart of God ∞

Each of today's scripture lessons emphasizes the desire to encounter God. The Psalmist speaks to a past of folly and ignorance that has been overcome by the discovery that God is his refuge. The passage in Hebrews identifies Jesus as the great high priest who sympathizes with humanity and encourages us to approach God's throne of grace with boldness. In Mark, a rich young man seeks out Jesus to learn how to inherit eternal life. And yet, when Jesus encourages him to pursue treasure in heaven rather than on earth, the man goes away bereft, unwilling to part with his riches.

At the close of today's service, the Lord's Supper will be celebrated in the Memorial Chapel located to the left of the chancel. Immediately following the Lord's Supper, a service of prayer for healing will be held. The service consists of prayers for healing and wholeness, with anointing and laying on of hands. All are invited.

The congregation is asked to remain silent during the prelude as a time of prayer and meditation.
