Service of Worship

Nineteenth Sunday after Pentecost

Homecoming Weekend

October 19, 2014

Eleven o'clock in the morning

∞ Bridging Faith and Learning ∞

As people of God, we seek assurance that God is among us, because we very easily place our trust in other things. In Exodus, Moses reveals that he has some of the same doubts as the people of Israel. He seeks to ensure that God will go with them on the journey, while also desiring a concrete glimpse of God himself. In Matthew, the Pharisees pose a question to Jesus about the payment of taxes. Jesus responds by saying, "Give therefore to Caesar the things that are Caesar's, and to God the things that are God's."

People: And also with you.

PRAYERS OF THE PEOPLE

(The congregation responds to each petition: “Hear our prayer.”)

This morning we give thanks for the Sanford School of Public Policy. We celebrate its dedication to creating public policy leaders for a changing world, and helping the University use knowledge in the service of society.

In Durham, we remember those who have been scarred by unhealthy relationships. We lift up the communities committed to helping carry the burdens of these scars.

ABOUT TODAY'S GUEST PREACHER

This morning we welcome Shane Claiborne as our Peter Gomes Guest Preacher. He graduated from Eastern University and did graduate work at Princeton Seminary. In 2010, he received an honorary doctorate from Eastern. His adventures have taken him from the streets of Calcutta where he worked with Mother Teresa to the wealthy suburbs of Chicago where he served at the influential mega-church Willow Creek. As a peacemaker, his journeys have taken him to some of the most troubled regions of the world – from Rwanda to the West Bank – and he's been on peace delegations in Afghanistan and Iraq. Shane is a founder and board member of The Simple Way, a faith community in inner city Philadelphia that has helped birth and connect radical faith communities around the world. He is married to Katie Jo, a North Carolina girl who also fell in love with the city (and with Shane). Shane is now an organizer and convener with Red Letter Christians, a movement of speakers, writers, and artists committed to Jesus and justice. You can find them online: www.redletterchristians.org.

CHAPEL ANNOUNCEMENTS

TODAY'S FLOWERS—Flowers for today's worship are given to the glory of God in honor of Duke's Homecoming weekend by the Duke Alumni Association and Duke Alumni Affairs.

TODAY'S MISSION OF THE MONTH OFFERING—El Futuro provides high-quality mental health and substance-abuse treatment for Latino immigrants. Many of those El Futuro helps have experienced physical abuse, sexual abuse, human trafficking, exploitation, and many other traumas associated with poverty and immigration. Each year, El Futuro assists close to 2,000 children and family members at its three area clinics, as well as on-site at some schools. This is not simply crisis oriented help but has a long term impact by keeping children in school and parents active at work and home. El Futuro is "building families, building communities, and building futures."

ORGAN RECITAL TONIGHT—Today at 5:00 p.m., David Heller (Trinity University in San Antonio, TX), will present this season's first program on the Organ Recital Series. His recital, performed on the Aeolian organ, will include works by Franck, Howells, Reger, Barber, Messiaen, Vierne, and Craig Phillips. Admission is free and all are welcome.

BRIDGE PANEL DISCUSSION—Tomorrow night, October 20, at 7:00 p.m. Chapel Dean Luke Powery will moderate a panel discussion in Duke Chapel. The conversation, "Responding to Violence with Justice and Mercy," is part of the Chapel's Bridge Panels series that seeks to connect people from various walks of life to discuss issues of shared concern. Panelists will include the Rev. Melvin Bullock, retired chaplain of Polk Correctional Institution; the Honorable Marcia H. Morey, chief district court judge of Durham's 14th Judicial District; Professor Simon Partner from Duke's History Department; and Effie Steele, president of the board of the Religious Coalition for a Nonviolent Durham.

BREAKING OUT EXHIBIT IN THE CHAPEL—This month Duke Chapel welcomes Breaking Out, a gallery of images produced last year by Duke's Develle Dish blog and the Women's Center. Curated by Hanna Metaferia (T'14, PathWays Chapel Scholar), Breaking Out is a tribute to survivors of sexual assault who volunteered to be photographed along with quotations that provide a personal narrative as to their experience with sexual violence. The exhibit reflects the Chapel's commitment to encouraging healing through artistic expression and cultivating communities of support for those isolated by shame. It will be displayed in Duke Chapel for public viewing through Oct 30 during Domestic Violence Awareness Month. The event is co-sponsored by Duke's Women's Center and the Presbyterian Campus Ministry.

FALL FELLOWSHIP—On October 26 after church the Chapel will be offering an autumn fellowship event on the Chapel lawn. Please plan to stay after the service for spiced cider, gingersnaps, and fellowship. All are welcome.

STRATEGIC PLAN—To view Duke Chapel's new strategic plan and learn how the Chapel embodies the University's motto, eruditio et religio, bridging faith and learning, visit chapel.duke.edu/mission/strategic-plan.
